Conditional sentences type 1

- The type 1 conditional refers to a possible condition and its probable result.
- These sentences are based on facts, and they are used to make statements about the real world, and about particular situations.
- In type 1 conditional sentences, the time is the present or future and the situation is real.
- It is used to talk about possible future events and their likely results.
- Conditional sentences have two parts: the IF-CLAUSE and the MAIN CLAUSE

FORM:

IF-CLAUSE + PRESENT SIMPLE- MAIN CLAUSE +FUTURE SIMPLE

If you have enough money, you will buy a new car.

When the IF-clause comes first, we always separate the two clauses with a comma.

With type 1 conditionals we can use UNLESS + affirmative verb or IF + negative verb.

I won't come to the party unless you invite me.

I won't come to the party if you don't invite me.

We use the regular word order for questions. The question is never in the if-clause.

If you get the money, will you buy me a new watch?

What will you do if you don't pass your exams?
